I have 2 pairs of this style in different colors. I love them. They are the essence of what jeans were intended to be--long before the wave of abdomen-squeezing, skinny-stretch, impossible high-rise "jeans" took over. They are a heavier weight but because of their styling, they allow easier bending, greater breathability, and comfort.

Salmonella enterica serotype typhi is a gram-negative bacterium that is responsible for typhoid fever and has been a burden on developing nations for generations. In 1829, Pierre Louis was the first to coin the term "typhoid fever" after identifying lesions in the abdominal lymph nodes of patients who had died from "gastric fever." [1] The term was derived from the Greek word "typhus ...

Diverticulosis is the condition of having multiple pouches (diverticula) in the colon that are not inflamed. These are outpockets of the colonic mucosa and submucosa through weaknesses of muscle layers in the colon wall, and may be due in part to low-fiber diet prompting changes in intestinal microflora with consequent low-grade inflammation. Diverticula do not cause symptoms in most people.

Yrs this happened to me after exactly 4 weeks on .25 and mild symptoms! Literally at week 4 I had such an intense pain in my right abdomen I had to be rushed to the hospital! It's been 4 days since my return. I am seeing a gastroenterologist in 3 days. The hospital ultrasound was not clear if it was my gallbladder or pancreas.
